

Notice – The information on excess government property that you are currently viewing will be shut down on or about September 30, 1998. The Plant

Clearance Automated Reutilization Screening System (PCARSS) will replace this system. You need to obtain a login to PCARSS, which can be found on a World Wide Web (WWW) site on the Internet. PCARSS is built upon a Windows environment that will allow you to view excess line items and then prepare and submit the requisition while on line. PCARSS is a paperless system that allows you to print the screen and any requisitions you have prepared. PCARSS will be operational in early August. The system you are currently viewing and PCARSS will both be available until September, when this system will shut down. For information on how to obtain a login to PCARSS, along with a copy of the users manual, please contact one of the following individuals: Ms. Janice Hawk, (703) 767-3433 (primary point of contact), Ms. Marge Salazar, (310) 335-4297, or Ms. Katie Trayers, (617) 753-3130.
